Bradgate Containers

With over 24 years experience, Bradgate Containers/EPD (backed by Network rail approval) have the expertise to build complete systems, where specialised customer equipment can be mechanically and electrically pre-installed, tested and commissioned into a purpose built module – providing the ultimate engineered solution.

The modules are of an all steel fabrication with either a fully welded or bonded panel construction system, dependent on project specification. Structural fabrication and cladding materials are based on mild steel; zintec; aluminium; pre-finish substrates or stainless steel – the latter providing a near zero maintenance factor and an operational life in excess of 60 years. The range of modules supports both volume type work and bespoke project execution.

OFFICE OF RAIL REGULATION

The Office of Rail Regulation (ORR) was established on 5th July 2004 by the Railways and Transport Safety Act 2003. It replaced the Office of the Rail Regulator. As the railway industry's economic regulator, the Office's principal function is to regulate Network Rail's stewardship of the national network. ORR also licenses operators of railway assets, approves agreements for access by operators to track, stations, and light maintenance depots, and enforces domestic competition law. ORR is led by a Board appointed by the Secretary of State for Transport, under the chairmanship of Chris Bolt. In July 2004, the Government announced the transfer of rail health and safety regulation from the Health and Safety Commission/Executive to ORR. This transfer was given effect in the Railways Act 2005, and ORR assumed its new responsibilities as a combined safety and economic regulator in April 2006.

Board of the Office of Rail Regulation:

Chairman: Chris Bold.

Chief Executive: Bill Emery.

Director of Rail Policy: Michael Beswick.
