SIX things you may not know about Irish Rail

I n the 90s, Irish Rail had an average frequency of two and a half hours and even in the first decade of the 21st century, services Irish Rail train services under three distinct brands - Connacht, Intercity and DART services. Much of the Irish rail network is controlled on one place - the Dublin–Rosslare Europort group under which we come – is being very supportive, even with all its problems. We have been allowed to do so much.
